

The Science Connection: Student-Made Movie

- These students created a movie using digital cameras and iMovie.
- The students chose clips from the classroom taping and planned what they wanted to say.
- This journaling experience allows the students to talk about the experiment they performed.
- On parent nights, the students can use these movies to show what they have been doing in school.
- In addition, these multimedia reports can be used to help build students' electronic portfolios.