

This passage explains about the art of ceramics. Five hundred years ago in the city of Gubbio, Giorgio Andreoli started a tradition of crafting ceramic plates and vases that reflect rainbow colors. This tradition has been carried on in different cities in the region of Umbria and has evolved in the last fifty years to include black vases modeled on the Etruscan style, called búccheri.